9. EXTRA COST

In the event of suspension of work by your instructions or the failure to supply adequate instructions at any stage, the contract price shall be altered to cover any additional expenditures incurred by Show Hire in consequence thereof.

12. FAULTS

Should any equipment hired develop a fault or not function as required, it is necessary to contact our office immediately upon discovery so arrangements can be made for replacement or service. If we are not contacted at the time of discovery we will be unable to offer a refund.

13. RADIOS

The hire of Show Hire radios is subject to the following conditions of use. Failure to observe the conditions can result in the seizure of the hired equipment for which the hirer is liable:

- The use of private mobile radio systems is licensed for business use only and conversations must be kept strictly to business.
- The hirer shall ensure that the equipment is operated by authorised persons only and the users are aware of these conditions. Unauthorised persons, where possible, should be prevented from obtaining access to the equipment.
- All equipment must only be operated on the frequencies detailed at the time of hire.
- The transmission of music or radio programmes, gambling or the use of obscene or offensive language are all expressly forbidden under Radio Licensing Regulations.
- Prior to transmission, the user shall listen in to ensure that the channel is not already in use. Never interrupt another user on the channel except in case of emergency which, for this purpose, is construed as a matter of life and death.
- The use of the call sign 'Show Hire' is obligatory and must be announced at the beginning and end of each message, if the message lasts longer than a minute.
- There must be no persistent calling to unmanned vehicles.
- In poor reception areas, the mobile should be asked to relocate rather than jam the channel with broken transmissions.
- Breach of conditions may result in seizure of the equipment by the RIS (Radio Investigation Service) under their powers granted by Section 79 of the Telecommunications Act 1984 as evidence of an offence under Section 1 of the Wireless Telegraphy Act 1949.
- All licences and services are authorised on the condition of non interference to other users and the Department of Trade and Industry reserves the right to terminate any licence or service that causes undue interference.
- It is the responsibility of the user to notify the Radio Investigation Service when the hire period has ended if that is sooner than the date shown on form STH1 supplied at time of hire. Show Hire can advise.
- The placing of labels on radios is strictly forbidden; any cleaning needed will be charged for. Suitable labels are available and can be purchased upon request.

14. TRAILERS

Under no circumstances are labels/signs to be stuck to the interior or exterior of the trailers. Any damage to the trailers will be charged for.

15. FUEL POLICY

Generators are supplied without fuel unless requested, at an additional charge.
